In view of the recent outbreak of novel coronavirus pneumonia (or “Wuhan pneumonia”), the Hong Kong Public Opinion Program (HKPOP) under the Hong Kong Public Opinion Research Institute (HKPORI) immediately launched the “Community Democracy Project: Community Health Module” (民主社區計劃：社區健康單元) or “Community Health Project” in short form last week. So far more than 20,000 panel members have expressed their views via the website bit.ly/poricdch. Latest results of the survey will be released tomorrow afternoon, including people's self-assessment on their chance of pneumonia infection, appraisal on the government's handling of the disease, views on complete closure of entry for visitors from Mainland China, calls for strike by frontline medical staff, and in-depth analysis on the opinion of Mei Foo Sun Chuen residents.
