香港教育中心商會副主席任偉豪指出：「教育局局長楊潤雄上星期透露，政府正在研究，如果疫苗接種率在九月達到一定水平的話，就可以讓中學回復全日制。經過了年半的疫情，有些家長漸漸認為半日制更適合孩子，因為孩子們可以在下午有更多時間消化功課、自己溫習和參與其他校外的課餘活動。這班家長可能認為接種疫苗是不必要的，或者不會讓孩子接種疫苗。我認為局長需要回應他們的訴求。」

Vice Chairman of The Hong Kong Chamber of Education Centres Yam Wai Ho observed, “The Secretary for Education Kevin Yeung said last week that the government is studying whether or not to resume full-day classes in secondary schools after the vaccination rate reaches a certain level. After a year and a half of the epidemic, some parents have gradually believed that half-day classes are more suitable for their children, because they could have more time in the afternoon to do their homework, revisions and participate in extracurricular activities outside schools. If these parents think that vaccination is unnecessary, they may not let their children get vaccinated. I think the Secretary needs to respond to the demands of these parents.”
